

Revolution in simulation

MAY 30 2018

ready for a revolution?

Today, the new web portal RevolutionInSimulation.org was launched to support a growing industry-wide movement to make engineering simulation more accessible, efficient and reliable, not just for CAE experts but also for non-specialists – the “Democratization of Simulation.”

RevolutionInSimulation.org is a collaboration among simulation experts, industry end-users and solution providers sharing a mission to create an open community to access and share useful, vendor-agnostic information. The goal is to provide end-users with all the resources they need to democratize simulation.

Access Experts, Bloggers & Industry Analysts

Industry News & Events

Articles, Papers, Blogs

Access End Users & Success Stories

Presentations

Webinars & Video

Rev-Sim Topic Moderators

Wolfgang Gentzsch – UberCloud
Seb Dewhurst – EASA
Matt Ladzinski – NAFEMS
Joe Walsh – ASSESS

Ricardo Actis – ESRD
Barna Szabo – ESRD
Alan Chalker – Ohio Supercomputer Center
Malcolm Panthaki – Comet Solutions

Juan Betts – Front End Analytics
Hubertus Tummescheit – Modelon
Dennis Nagy – Beyond CAE
Bruce Jenkins – Ora Research

JOIN THE

www.rev-sim.org

Democratization Sessions at NAFEMS CAASE 2018

HOSTED BY

Day 1 - Room 23

Democratization 1	11:20 AM	Presentations
Democratization 2	2:20 PM	Presentations
Democratizing Engineering Models (Part 1)	4:35 PM	Workshop

Day 2 – Room 23

Democratization 3	10:50 AM	Presentations
Democratization 4	1:50 PM	Presentations
Democratizing Engineering Models (Part 2)	4:05 PM	Workshop

Day 3: Room 23

Democratization 5 A new, public Web Community for the Democratization of Simulation	10:20 AM	Presentations Presentation #3
Democratization Roundtable Panelists: Rev-Sim Moderators	1:00 PM	Discussion/Q&A

Access Experts, Bloggers
& Industry Analysts

Industry News & Events

Articles, Papers, Blogs

Access End Users &
Success Stories

Presentations

Webinars & Video

Rev-Sim Executive Committee

Malcolm Panthaki
Comet Solutions

Rich McFall
PLM Alliances

Robert Farrell
Farrell MarCom

REV-SIM SPONSORS

